Bought the game yesterday - already played 7 hours.

It feels familiar, and fresh at the same time - good mix of old and new:

Graphics, some tower placing/enemy waves/experience gain after beating a map mechanics feel very familiar.

Gems needed to be stolen and carried all the way back by monsters, towers becoming upgradable after killing enough enemies during current game - that is a nice and refreshing change compared to most TD games I played.

Game feels like it's medium in size and complexity, but for the money It's a good value IMO.

All in all, it'd rate it 8/10. It suprised me how good and adictive this game is.

It's a hack 'n' slash arena game (with resemblance to Diablo) with character growth, rewards and basicly thats it.

But it works! :)

It's super fun and exiting to slash your opponents in arena.

Graphics are very nice, and music also adds to gameplay.

Downside is repetative combat. Also for battles, it's better to use controller than mouse\keyboard (expecially for some weapons).

Suggestion: There should be more info on your characters records. Like: enemies defeated, score with bosses, favourite weapon, kills with different weapon... stuff like that.

If you see it on sale, it is a must BUY. Very early review but this game so far is a lot of fun. Flying becomes very intuitive very quickly and the tutorial level was more fleshed out than i expected considering most time is spent in the air.

Looking forward to multiplayer.

The weapon effects definetely need a little more punch. But so far, looking good.. This game was very interesting. If you want fun and adventure then don't be like Adam. Thought provoking. Needs to be longer though. Whatever you choose the outcome will remain the same. Found that out on the second playthrough.. Bar non the most endearing game I have ever played.

Multiplayer is scuffed.. 4ضد4 ما يكون شخص انا الا موجود حقيقيه الباقي ف بوتات كلهم الباقى حقيقيه شخص انا الا موجود ما يكون 4ضد4 . Quite good! I wish the developer would put some more work into this game. Really fun little timewaster IMHO.. The Gameplay is alright, just rather lacking. Its not an rts, its not an rpg is just very bland. Feels only half made.

The story is utter\u2665\u2665\u2665\u2665\u2665\u2665however, makes no sense at all.. This is a very casual farming game with a few flaws. The game itself is simplistic, but not in a childish way.

The tutorial covers bare basics and much needs to be figured out by the player. Controls are somewhat inconsistent for example left-click for eating berries, but right-click while in a forest. Combat with wolves\bears has no healthbar or indicator how damaged the opponent is. Hired farm help are not consistent and how well they work is guesswork.

Despite its flaws it can be a quite entertaining game, although earning money is slow and later in the game the sales amount doesn't increase, so your warehouse gets slowly filled.

The game features three mini-games (fishing, generator, chopping wood) and a wheel of fortune which can be played once per day.

You can not die in this game, you'll end up in your farmhouse with a doctors bill. :)

The developer is responsive and patches bugs quickly after reporting.

In all, I would recommend this game if you're looking for a casual farming game.. Finally a game that runs on a potato VR or not. This means you don't have to spend over $2k on a train set I also like the art style.. I bought this having already bought the previous South Wales Coastal route, and was suprised I was having to pay again for the Bristol-Cardiff section.

Then I discovered there isn't one scenario in this scenery that actually runs from Bristol to Swansea.

So I tried a scenario from Swansea to Cardiff so at least I would see the new section. They are all at night.

So for owners of the origianl South Wales Coastal I would recommend avoiding this scenery as it gives nothing new to see. Seems a bit of a ps-take to me if I'm honest.
